

HiCrEc Training Project for Unemployed Performers

Written by Administrator

Tuesday, 15 July 2014 20:43 - Last Updated Tuesday, 15 July 2014 21:05

UK UNSIGNED is one of the main supporters of a new training project created by the HiCrEc Network.

HiCrEc

stands for the Hidden Creative Economy and represents that side of the creative industry that operates outside of the mainstream. This project is FREE for unemployed musicians or performers who are aged 19 and over and live in or wider Bedfordshire. We are only looking to take on a very limited number of participants on this project which will run for 12 weeks. During this time we shall work with the participants by helping them to create successful brands and businesses around their talent from which they will be able to generate income for themselves. There will also be opportunities for them to perform in a number of showcases that we are organising as well as being put forward for events across the country.

Luton

Those interested in taking part should email info@ukunsigned.tv or john@ukunsigned.net or call 0208 776 6776. There will be an enrolment day at the UK Centre for Carnival Arts, St Mary

s

Rd,

Luton

,

LU1

3JA

on Monday

28th

July from

2pm

where we

wil

explain about the project in more detail. Again there will be a limited amount of spaces so please contact ASAP to book your spot.